

I apologize, but it seems like the job description you provided is not readable due to the incorrect formatting.

Here's a sample cover letter:

[Your Name]
[Your Address]
[City, State ZIP Code]
[Date]

[Hiring Manager's Name]
[Company Name]
[Company Address]
[City, State ZIP Code]

Dear [Hiring Manager's Name],

I am excited to apply for the [Job Title] position at [Company Name], as advertised on [Job Board or Source].

In my current position as a Backend Developer at [Current Company], I have developed and optimized robust APIs and microservices.

In my previous role as a Software Engineer, I worked closely with cross-functional teams to deliver new features and improve system performance.

I am particularly drawn to this role at [Company Name] because of the opportunity to work on [Specific Project or Technology].

In addition to my technical skills, I possess excellent communication and collaboration skills, which have been instrumental in my previous roles.

Thank you for considering my application. I would be thrilled to discuss my qualifications further and explain how I can contribute to your team.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

I hope this helps! Remember to tailor your cover letter to the specific job description and highlight your most relevant skills and experiences.